First Official Courtesy of State Convention Which Meets
In Gulfport Will Take Place In Bay St. Louis, At Noon, Saturday, March 22

The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce will be hosts Saturday, March 22, at a luncheon tendered to the delegates from the garden clubs of the state who will hold their first annual convention at Gulfport Saturday and Sunday, March 22 and 23, this luncheon at Bay St. Louis being the first official courtesy extended to the visitors. Announcement of this beautiful act of hospitality is made this week by George R. Rea, president, and Chas. G. Moreau, of the executive committee. Details of the luncheon have not been worked out but it is assured that the proverbial Bay St. Louis graciousness to all visitors will be most effectively displayed.

The courtesy of the luncheon was tendered Mrs. Adair Ewin of Gulfport, president of the Garden Club, and one of the state vice-presidents, and she will be named honor guest at the luncheon in recognition of the fine work she has done for years in furthering gardening in the Coast area. Her delight in this courtesy presages one of the most enjoyable of events. She requests that the Bay St. Louis hosts plan the program for the luncheon, stating that anything requested of the Garden Club members will be gladly done.

GARDEN CLUB PLANS MADE

Executive Board at Gulfport
Adopts Tentative Program—To Visit Bay
St. Louis.

Tentative plans for the entertainment of the Mississippi Federation of Garden Clubs which will hold its convention in Gulfport were made at a meeting of the executive board of the Gulfport Garden Club which will act as host to the state convention and are announced by Mrs. Adair Ewin, president of the Gulfport Club, and a vice-president of the state federation. The dates which will be submitted to the state executive board of which Ben Arthur Williams of Meridian is secretary, are Saturday and Sunday, March 22 and 23. It is planned to spend Saturday on the Coast taking the visiting delegates in the morning to visit various swamps and woods to show the native Coast plants and wild flowers in which so many from the state are interested. A Coast ride to Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis with a visit to the gardens and tea served at the home of Mrs. R. H. Hecht of Pass Christian are planned for the afternoon. Dinner in Gulfport at which the hosts club will entertain will be followed by the business session of the convention. Sunday will be devoted to a motor trip to Mobile to visit the azaleas. Mrs. Ewin has received from the Mobile Chamber of Commerce assurance that a guide will be furnished the visiting garden clubs to show them the azaleas of Mobile. After acceptance by the state executive committee the completed program for the convention will be arranged.

ACTION IS FILED FOR FORECLOSURE ON COAST HOTEL

$100,000 Bond Mortgage
On Property Involved
In Suit.

Foreclosure of a $100,000 bond mortgage on the hotel property at Pass Christian known as Gray Castle is sought in a suit filed in the Harrison county chancery court by the Mississippi Bond and Mortgage Company, alleged holders of 90 percent of the bonds. Gray Castle, Inc., is named as the principal defendant, but other firms and individuals are included to determine their interest in the suit. A sale of the property is asked to liquidate the indebtedness. The suit is returnable at the 3rd term of court.

This is the second large bond mortgage foreclosure on real estate in Harrison county sought within recent weeks, the first being on land at Henderson Point west of Pass Christian.

BROWN—LUXICH

Herbert Mitchell Brown and Miss Vivian Luxich were married Tuesday afternoon, 4 o'clock at the residence of Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor of our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, at Bay St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Bay St. Louis.

TWO BILLS OFFERED IN SENATE AFFECT THIS COAST SECTION

One Offers To Illuminate
Bridges and Highways—
Defeat Proposal to Raise Pay.

Senator George Foote, Gulfport, offered two bills affecting the coast cities and counties, one authorizing illumination of the highways and bridges and the other appropriations to charity awards.

The Senate defeated the proposal to raise from $3 to $5 the pay for election commissioners.

Before the House adjourned, Saturday, the bill reorganizing the state fire insurance commission and broadening the powers of that body in rate making was passed.

It also makes the state insurance commission ex-officio chairman without a vote and regulates the qualifications of the three members appointed, one each by the governor, attorney and insurance commissioner.

Arthur Brisbane, genius and highest-paid writer in the world, in his daily letter by telegraph Sunday, in his country-wide contribution for that day takes occasion to refer to this immediate section in its local color and reproduce for its local color and interest. This is not the first time in referring to California and Florida that he includes the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"Arriving in Chicago Saturday you found vigorous, manly weather, a little below zero. Thick snow on both sides of the track, passing east through Kansas, Missouri and through Illinois. Very different from California left behind two days before, or Florida, or the Gulf coast 'Riviera,' where wise mothers are telling their children, 'Don't go out in the hot sun without your hats.'"

WORK ON OPENING OF STREET

Right of Ways Secured from Beach to Dunbar Avenue
For de Montluzin
Avenue

Work of opening the new street, De Montluzin avenue, from the North Beach Boulevard westward, is progressing. At present the street will be opened for two blocks, namely to Toume street and in the near future it is planned to open it to Dunbar avenue.

City officials state that rights of way have been secured for the entire length of the street from the beach to Dunbar avenue. As announced some time ago, Rene de Montluzin donated to the city a 60-foot street from the beach to Second street. It has been learned that there are two donors of the 60-foot right of way from Second street to Dunbar avenue, namely Jos. de Benedetto of Bay St. Louis and Rev. C. A. de la Roche, who resides in New Orleans. The right of way calls for a 48-foot street with 6-foot sidewalks on either side. While no official plans have been made regarding this new street it is understood that eventually some type of surface, either gravel or shells, will be placed on the street.

Ritayik, of New Orleans and Waveland, as chairman of the summer work of the order for the Hubert H. H. Memorial Home in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Ritayik filled this position most successfully the past summer and the order is to be commended in her selection for another season.

FARMERS TO PLANT CUCUMBERS

Meeting at Kiln Thursday
Night One That Gives Much Promise For Future Farming

Kiln Consolidated schoolhouse on Thursday night was the scene of quite an interesting meeting of farmers from the Kiln and surrounding country, the large auditorium being comfortably filled.

The occasion was, pursuant to call, the assembly of farmers to hear Mr. J. J. Coleman, of Wiggins, representing the acreage department of the Standard Brands Pickle factory at that place. Mr. Coleman was preceded by George R. Rea, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at Bay St. Louis, that civic organization sponsoring the meeting. Mr. Rea told of the aims and work of the chamber of commerce, that its purpose was to help the people of the city and county to better themselves and that a new agricultural era seemed to be at hand and that the timber resources of the county were at low ebb. He introduced Mr. Coleman who spoke for an hour on how to grow "pickles" and how to "market" them in order to get the best prices from the factory.

Many questions were asked and answered before adjournment some twenty farmers signed contracts to grow "pickles" for the Wiggins factory. He said it was necessary to plant no earlier than March 15 and no later than April 15th. That a "station" would be established at Kiln for the delivery of the green cucumber and cash prices would be paid then and there.

A similar meeting was held the next night at Leetown, one previously at Carrere and the plan would become effective after one hundred acres had been pledged.

Noted at the meeting were Supervisors Jos. P. Moran of the Kiln district, Supervisor Emilio Cue from the Bay St. Louis district, Dr. C. M. Shipp, and in addition to George R. Rea, representative of The Sea Coast Echo. Prof. S. P. Powell and Prof. E. E. Lumpkin, agriculturist of the Kiln school, who took an active part in the deliberations, were also present, as was Mr. James Rester, of Leetown.

Screen Gives Greater Sweep
To Musical Hit of Stage.

Action, color, music, splendor! Words describe with difficulty the entertainment value in Radio Pictures' latest musical comedy, "Hit the Deck," which will be at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, February 23 and 24.

"Hallelujah," a solo song in the stage play, is sung at a Negro spiritual meeting employing hundreds of Negro singers and dancers.

The battleship stage, is photographed in technicolor. Hundreds of players participate in these scenes. Polly Walker, former Broadway beauty, demonstrates her right to the title. Aside from an unusual beauty of face and form, Miss Walker reveals genius in her songs and dancing. As Looloo, the coffee shop girl, she coos.

Opposite Miss Walker in the role of Bilge is Jack Oakie, Hollywood's newest sensation in the comedy field. The part seems made for Oakie.

Others in the cast are Marguerita Padula, singer, June Clyde, Radio Pictures player, in new songs and dances, Ethel Clayton, as Mrs. Payne, Dell Henderson, Wallace MacDonald and the inimitable three comedians, Roger Gray, Frank Woods and Harry Sweet. They are very much in evidence in the story and hilariously funny.

Nine songs—even more than the stage production had—include such numbers as "Join the Navy," "Loo-loo," "Hallelujah," "Keeping Myself Just For You," "Harbor of My Heart," "Sez You, Sez Me," and "Sometimes I'm Happy."

BAY YOUTH WHO IS "MAKING GOOD" AT ALABAMA UNIVERSITY

Winfield Partridge Scores In Honors and Is One of Few Selected to Fraternity.

Out of a number of approximately fifteen hundred students Winfield Partridge, of Bay St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Partridge of North Beach Boulevard, was one of thirty-four students elected to Scholastic fraternity of University of Alabama.

Selected because of academic merit and elected because of this qualification, Winfield was one of the few elected to the University of Alabama Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma, national scholastic fraternity. Phi Beta Sigma is the Phi Beta Kappa for first year students.

It is interesting to note young Partridge was a member of Class '29 St. Stanislaus College and his instructors say that his academic success is not only due to fine scholarship and application but to the thorough grounding he received at Stanislaus.

'PALS FIRST' COMEDY TO BE FEATURE

Dramatic Entertainment To Be Presented At Bay High
Auditorium Next Wednesday Night.

That clever comedy "Pals First," which will be presented at the Bay High School Auditorium on next Wednesday night, February 26th at 8 o'clock, promises to be one of the best comedies ever given in this city and a cast one of the cleverest to step before the footlights in Bay St. Louis.

This play has the same cast that presented, "Captain Applejack," "The Rear Car," "The Bride," and other plays to the people of Pass Christian last year, and each performance was greeted with enthusiasm by crowded houses.

The members of the cast put in months, not weeks, of practice and each and every one displays exceptional talent which is the result of thorough practice and the best of coaching. The stage settings are most appropriate and attractive.

You will enjoy this play and the admittance price has been made so low that all can afford to attend. The prices being 15c for children and 35c for adults.

$80,000 CLAIMED PAID TO QUASH A THREATENED ANTI-TRUST SUIT IN MISS.

Alleged Transaction Said to Have Taken Place in Tennessee—No Violation of Law on Miss. Soil Said To Have Been Violated—Looks Like A Case of False Pretenses, However.

Since Thursday of last week from the Tennessee line to the Mexican Gulf and from the Alabama line to the Mississippi river there has been but one topic of conversation among the people of this Commonwealth, all occasioned by the mysterious trip of five prominent Mississippi citizens to Memphis on or about the 7th day of September, 1928, and the payment to one or more of the aforesaid prominent citizens of $80,000 by the representative of Warren Brothers, a Boston corporation, patentees of a road paving material and known as Warren.

It seems that a suit was threatened against the corporation and several road construction contractors for violation of the anti-trust laws of Mississippi, and the $80,000 was paid in settlement of the threatened suit—but not one penny of that $80,000 has to this good hour been paid into the State treasury—and, thereby hangs a tale!

Under the law such a suit could be instituted only in the name of the attorney-general, and that official disclaims any connection or even authorizing any of his assistants or any one else to act in his stead in the matter of instituting such suit, and therefore such settlement was effected by private individuals and in no wise precludes the State of Mississippi bringing suit against the corporation and the contractors for violation of the anti-trust law and on conviction penalizing the corporation and contractors in a sum aggregating several million dollars.

So far three of the parties who made that trip to Memphis, have been called before the Anderson "roving" investigating committee. One of them refused to give information with regard to whom the $80,000 was paid; another asserted he knew nothing at all about it, and the third claimed that he was invited to make the trip to Memphis, knew nothing about the payment of the money, nor why he was invited to go to the Tennessee city. The two other parties who made that memorable trip have not as yet been before the investigating committee although subpoenas have been issued requiring their presence before the committee, and until they do present themselves and testify, The Echo prefers to withhold comment, other than to say that the whole transaction "stinks to Heaven."

No Mississippi law has been violated in the premises, as it took place and was consummated in Tennessee, where it seems to The Echo prosecution for false pretenses should be instituted against the party or parties guilty of "Shaking down" that $80,000 from the coffers of Boston corporation.

The next few days should bring forth some startling developments. In the meantime the people of Mississippi must patiently await further information as to how that $80,000 was split up among the five prominent Mississippians who made that trip to Memphis.

Believe it or not the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce for Hancock county is a means of attracting considerable interest over the country, proves a great disseminator of information and serves as a medium of calculable benefit for this community.

Many inquiries come to the office of this association of business interest of this time to time. Within the past few weeks of the new year the following names and addresses represent inquiries received soliciting information about this section. The Echo publishes the list below. Our readers might correspond with some of these inquiries:

Some scientist has predicted that the earth and sun will probably collide in 70,000,000 years. Nervous folks of the present time can now rest in absolute peace, as they are in no danger of witnessing the grand smash up.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was in New Orleans for a day last week and had her first taste of that city's famous Creole coffee, and we learn from the press that she could not find words which would adequately express her delight over its excellence.

Every day comes news of Federal enforcement officers rounding up hundreds of liquor law violators in this or that city, but the bootlegger and the pack goods moonshiner pay their trade without fear and little interference by your Uncle Sam's minor.

It may be that in the years to come the Mississippi valley will be freed of the menace of floods, but in the meantime nothing is being done to hasten the flood control measure adopted two or three years ago which would give the promise of relief. It is now proposed that some scheme of flood control be adopted other than that of the Jaffin plan.

A Texas jury after deliberating for three days and nights failed to agree on a verdict and a mistrial was entered. The jury's final ballot stood nine for death, two for life sentence and one for acquittal, so the defendant, John W. Brady, former Texas jurist, will again stand trial for the brutal murder of his young lady stenographer. That lone juror who stood out for his acquittal is either a stubborn fellow or else he got on the jury with his mind made up to free the defendant even before he heard the evidence.

"GONE DEMOCRATIC"

While Ex-President Coolidge was basking in the sunshine of Florida last week, the Democratic candidate for congress in his home district was elected over the Republican nominee, it being the first time on record that a Democrat was ever elected from this district. Silent Cal, calculating Cal, was no doubt shocked when news came over the wires that the district had "gone Democratic."

A JUDAS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

At the close of a speech in Montgomery, a few nights since, old Tom Heflin, who misrepresents Alabama in the United States senate, asserted in thunderous tones: "I am a Democrat." To be perfectly candid, The Echo in just as thunderous tone proclaims that Heflin is several sorts of a liar. He, nor any other man who voted for Herbert Hoover and against Al Smith can truthfully claim that he is a Democrat.

LINDBERGH MAY BE RIGHT

It is just possible that Col. Lindbergh knows what he is doing. If the young man is having nothing but what he considers a "good time," that's his business, and if he is experimenting with gliders in the hope of learning something about planes, we gamble that he finds out what he wants.

A dispatch from Georgia tells of a father of three small children, who, having remarried, kills his three children and himself because he could not get along with his second wife.

One finds it difficult to imagine any father committing such a desperate act. A man reaches the awful depths of depravity when he takes the life of his offspring, and how any circumstances can bring a man to the point of murdering his little, trusting children, is beyond normal minds.

300,000 GOD'S ACRES

If plans materialize the Baptist farmers of the State of Georgia will plant more than three hundred thousand "God's acres," being so named because the planter agrees to donate the proceeds of the plots to the church as his contribution.

This is interesting, having an appealing publicity element, besides affording the farmers a method of making a definite contribution to their chosen religion. Perhaps, as some have claimed, these special acres will produce special yields when dedicated to this special purpose.

DID THE RIGHT THING

The Echo has always had a high regard for Hon. John R. Tally, of Hattiesburg, and such regard was strengthened when he resigned from the State Democratic executive committee because he was conscientiously opposed to the nomination of Al Smith as the Democratic candidate for president. His action was open and above board, and quite the contrary to that of a whole lot of so-called Democrats who secretly supported and voted for the Republican nominee. But their day of reckoning is coming when they seek favor or preferment at the hands of the true and loyal members of the party which they betrayed in 1928.

WHY NOT LIVE AT HOME?

Half of the value of Alabama's cotton crop, according to agricultural leaders who recently met at Montgomery, goes out of the state to buy food for the families and for the livestock of the state. Is it not ridiculous for the people of this state to send that enormous sum of money out of the state for things they can raise in this state? Why not grow these things at home? Are there many things we need that we cannot grow in Alabama? The truth of the matter is that we can grow and make everything we need in this state, except, for a very few things, and we could do without most of these if we had to do it. But actually we do not grow and make the things we can easily grow and make in Alabama; we load our tables down with products that are sent in from other states; the shelves of our stores are crammed with products that are grown and canned in other states; we do not grow enough food for the small amount of livestock we have in Alabama; we buy corn, and hay, and oats, and other products that we ought to grow on the fertile lands of Alabama.

Why should we every year send millions of dollars out of this state for the things that we ought to produce for ourselves on our own lands? Would it not be wiser for us to keep these millions of dollars at home to aid in the further development and use of our unsurpassed resources?

We buy corn from Iowa, cheese from New York and Wisconsin; we buy chickens from Tennessee and Missouri, turkeys from Texas; we buy meats from Missouri and Kansas; we buy vegetables and other products, in this, from a number of states; we buy fish from Washington and Alaska, honey from Guatemala, eggs from China; and so it goes with many things that we daily use in our homes. Is it not absurd in view of the fact that we can produce all these things and many others that we buy from other states and countries.—Mobile Register.

Everything said in the above applies with equal force to our State, for there is only an invisible line separating Alabama and Mississippi. We have the same climate, and, as a whole, much better soil in which to plant every variety of food crops.

Just when the people of Mississippi and other southern states will determine to change the policy of sending money to other sections for the many articles of food stuffs for human as well as animal consumption is a question which The Echo hesitates to hazard a guess. They may wake up sometime, but they are so wedded to King Cotton and the idea of making that staple their sole money crop we see small hope of diversification in agriculture, despite all the warnings sounded every once in a while by agricultural leaders.

That a change will come we have no doubt, but why it has not come about a long time ago has always been a mystery to The Echo.

"Living at home and boarding at the same place" is what Mississippians and all their southern neighbors must learn to do, and the sooner they get to it wealth, prosperity and happiness will come to them in even greater measure than it has to any other section of our common country.

$53,000,000—DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR.

Maj. George L. Donald, retiring Collector of Internal Revenue for Mississippi, says: "During my term as collector serving under four presidents, I collected and paid into the treasury over $53,000,000. In collecting this vast sum not one single dollar was ever diverted from its course."

There's a man giving an account of his stewardship that ought to stir the conscience of every holder of a public trust! More office holders with this conception of honesty and the respect of a people would return again.—Gulfport Guide.

There's a world of truth in that concluding sentence, and it offers something for folks to think about.

Major Donald comes from stock that puts honesty and fidelity to every trust reposed in them far above all else in this world. Would that there were more like him in public office, both high and low. The need of such characters in the official life of Mississippi is sadly felt, especially at the present time when so many men are being checked short and scandal affecting more of them is being retailed from one end of the State to the other.

FORD TO GIVE MONEY AWAY.

Henry Ford, never famed for charity, as the word is usually understood, seems to be on the verge of a plunge in philanthropy, judging from what we read.

It is said that the auto-maker plans to spend as much as $100,000,000, if necessary to establish schools throughout the nation to teach young men a trade. He believes that every man should have expert knowledge of some trade and we agree with him.

The disposition of the Ford fortune is a problem for the Fords, not for The Echo. No one understands this better than Henry Ford, and while there have been many people to criticize him the chances are that much of his money will find itself, eventually, engaged in the work of mankind, without any big idea of profits.

PAT HARRISON IS RIGHT.

The Echo heard a man belittling Pat Harrison a few days ago because the Mississippi senator was instrumental in defeating the attempted raise in the sugar schedule of the tariff bill. It is hardly necessary to say the gentleman was from Louisiana. Isn't there a lot of selfishness in this old world of ours? If the duty on sugar was raised it would put a few millions of dollars into the pockets of the Pelican State cane growers, but the rest of us would pay millions more for our "sweetening."

CARELESSNESS CLAIMS MANY VICTIMS.

There was a seven per cent increase in the number of automobile fatalities during 1929 over that of 1928. Will such an increase continue or will the men and women who operate the machines be more careful, for the fact is undeniable that a vast majority of the fatalities is the result of carelessness.

LET'S BEAUTIFY BAY SAINT LOUIS NOW

Effect of Flowers Can Not Be Overestimated.

Just about this time might not be amiss to do a little work toward the general beautification of Bay St. Louis. A little investment in flower seed will go a long way towards beautifying the entire town. Those citizens who have not heretofore indulged in any great extent in flower gardens could do a little planning just now, and with a very little labor, can have flowers growing and blooming in a very short time.

If each individual will do a little in this direction, the concerted effort will result in the entire town being filled with flowers and a town that is pleasing to look at, has many advantages over those who do not try to make themselves presentable to strangers.

Many towns have built a reputation on the flowers they keep blooming. They attract visitors from far and wide to see the beauty of these flowers, and naturally a lot of good advertising is given them on this score alone.

DIVIDENDS ON LIFE.

"I am drawing dividends on the life I have lived since boyhood. I've never drank liquor in my life and I have never smoked. I've always eaten good, plain food and loved work. I never was lazy and never saw a time when I didn't have plenty to do. I've wronged nobody."

So spoke United States Senator Smoot of Utah at the celebration of his sixty-eighth birthday and what a blessing and benefit it would be if his example was emulated by the present generation of young people who are to be leaders in business, politics and the professions a few years hence.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

The efficiency expert of an eastern concern has just received a verbal pat on the head from his board of directors for his ingenuity in saving the firm something like $300 a year. This genius ordered the paper-towel containers in the company's wash-rooms placed about fifteen inches higher on the wall. After washing their hands the employees will be annoyed by water running down their sleeves when they reach for a towel unless they first shake off the surplus moisture. Thus the consumption of paper towels has been greatly reduced.

In the great pursuit of efficiency this idea is almost perfect. It won't be 100 per cent, however, until the efficiency man figures out a way to make all those drops of water run an electric fan or another turbine or something.

An unidentified bandit rather than be arrested shot and killed himself over at Baton Rouge the other day. That was a decent act on his part, as it saved the officers the job of killing him; and perhaps it also saved humiliation and sorrow to some patient or other near kindred who were unaware that he was a criminal.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE

"The recent passing of the Hon. Robert Kennon Jayne, marks an epoch in the melancholy annals of Mississippi. No grander soul was ever clad in human frailty. He loved nature. A man who loves nature loves his fellow man. He was a great humanitarian. His heroic conduct when saffron winged pestilence hovered like a pall in 1878 will be remembered by Mississippians until languages are dead and lips are dust. He walked the railroad track to Lake Station, some eighty miles, and administered to the afflicted and helped bury the dead. It may truthfully be said of him, no needy was left unattended, and no sorrowing being but found comfort in his kindness. He was rock-hearted in front of adversity or evil temptation; yet when shaken by the winds of sympathy he soothed with the tenderness of a child. Honor was his guide. Truth was his guide. He would have gone to the stake for his convictions. He was as chivalrous as the heroes of romance. Loving all, doing good things, always, when the mysterious messenger beckoned him after four score of years, save two, he faced death without a murmur. And falling gently to sleep, his knightly soul flew back to the great God who gave it.

"After the burden, the blissful mead,

"After the flight the, downy nest,

"After the furrow, the waking seed,

"After the shadowy river—rest."

The above beautiful tribute to the late Robert Kennon Jayne appeared a few days since in Edgar S. Wilson's "Mirrors of Mississippi, and it is a deserved eulogy to one of the noblest men that ever lived in Mississippi. He was an elder brother of Prof. Madison M. Jayne, at one time, some twenty years ago, principal of the Bay St. Louis high school.

Mr. Rand reproduces in The Gulf Coast Guide a map diagramming business conditions throughout the country on February 1. This map shows only a few points of the United States enjoying good business conditions. It is interesting to note that Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and part of Georgia shown among the most-favored sections.

Those sections, in other words, that were most adversely affected by the flood of 1927 show the greatest improvement in conditions.

A good cotton crop at good prices, the foundation for this condition of relative prosperity, has since been discounted. Over and above this was good general farming conditions. The cities have not been as prosperous as the country in recent months, even in this area. Most parts, we are happy to note, was in fairly good condition.

The Gulf Coast itself is somewhat adversely affected in its tourist business by the stock slump of October and November. That cramped a good many who normally travel. But general tourist conditions on the Gulf Coast are as good as last year or better. They should have been very much better, for the winter in the North and Northwest has been severe.

Boarding houses and resort hotels on the Coast which cater to the moderately well-to-do report better business than last year. The rich are not spending as much money as they did a year ago, because many of them are not as rich as they thought they were a year ago.

The Coast it self has been transformed into one of the world's finest resort sections. Hundreds of miles of asphalt and hard-surface paving miles and miles of seawalls, modern hotels, and amusement facilities of various kinds make that one of the most delightful sections of America.

It is a pity that in investing tens of millions of dollars for its development the Coast did not spend a little less on actual improvements and set aside a little more for advertisement. Chicago has been experiencing weather at times 10 to 20 degrees below zero. If an advertising fund existed whereby the Gulf Coast and New Orleans advertising could be released in Chicago and other Northern cities at the time when the weather is paralyzing those sections, the response would be almost immediate, and we could bring thousands of people from the North to our city and to the Coast.

Palm trees and sunshades don't interest us much on balmy days. But if you have ever suffered through a Northern winter and run into 10 degrees below zero, you are bound to be attracted by this sort of advertisement.

We are confident of a future for our City and the Gulf Coast from a resort standpoint. Advertising of a proper kind will speed up this business.

MORE than $78,000,000 will be disbursed by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company this year to operate and maintain the telephone system and care for the growth in the nine Southeastern states.

Of this large sum $35,000,000 is new money and will be needed for additions and replacements. It means that approximately 50,000 new telephones will be added and that the long distance system will be greatly enlarged and improved.

The remaining $43,000,000 will be required for operating and maintaining the service and practically all of it will remain at home in the 900 cities in which the company operates.

This enormous expenditure indicates confidence in the commercial and industrial growth of the Southeast and is a fulfillment of the Bell System policy of furnishing comprehensive, efficient service, at the lowest possible cost consistent with financial safety.

Holy Cross came to play its last Sunday. They put up a good game but could not stop up from revenging last year's defeat at their hands.

The game opened fast, Holy Cross drawing first blood. Both sides fought hard. Holy Cross showed good pass work and the excellent guarding of Cabas was the only thing that kept us from running up a much larger score. Our pass work excelled that of the visitors but we "didn't go to town on shooting." Holy Cross played a much better game in the second half than they did in the first. The game ended 51 to 14 with another victory to our string.

Sodality.

(By One Who Was There)
Did the south put it over? Did the rain stop us? Why did we put it over? These were the three questions asked by Reverend Father Mulry, S. J., to the two thousand sodalists who had gathered in the Loyola Gymnasium, New Orleans, last Saturday at the South's First Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Convention.
To the first question the immense throng quickly responded, "Yes!" And they had a group of more intelligent, eager, earnest and conscientious boys and girls would be hard to find. Many hundreds of these boys and girls had journeyed many miles to attend this big gathering.
To the second interrogation, the crowd answered "No!"

In spite of the almost incessant rain that fell all the morning, fifty nine schools were represented, including Loyola and Springhill Universities.
The convention was opened with plenty of pep and this was kept up during the entire program of the day. Songs and amusing talks punctuated the more serious speeches and discussions of the program. The boy and girl sodalists delivered most of the speeches before the microphone of station WWL. Many interesting and morally beneficial talks were heard over the air, these talks being: Temperance in Drinking; Devotion to Our Lady The Mother of God; The Holy Eucharist; The Rosary; Missionary Work and Its Benefits; Publicity of Our Sodality; Catholic Action, and The Sodality.

Anthony "Tuga" Glover represented St. Stanislaus College before the "mike" and it is the writer's privilege to say, without boasting, that his was the best speech from the point of view of delivery and what he had to say. He was interrupted several times by applause.
The convention was closed in the evening about four o'clock by Benediction at the Holy Name Church, and solemn High Mass at the Loyola church.
"I think that the South's First Sodality Convention was a huge success," said Brother Edmund, director of the St. Stanislaus Sodality, and we're going to do our share to help put it over bigger and better next year."

Tulane vs. Stanislaus

Tuesday night the Rock-A-Chows varsity played a very interesting game with Tulane Varsity at New Orleans. The first half was a nip and tuck affair ending with Tulane on the long end of a 15-13 score.

The big boys came back in the second half and with the help of "Preacher" Roberts, soon had the game sewed up.

The Rocks did not display their usual snap and accuracy. We believe the big town had them sort of scared. Perhaps they have gotten too used to the rooting of the Bay fans. They did play their usual clean game. Six fouls were called against us and four of these were on Genard. The game ended 42 to 29. Carl Lind, former Tulane player, and now second baseman for Cleveland, handled the game in fine style and he had a good word for the clean playing and sportsmanship displayed by our boys.

Junior Yard Notes.
Juniors defeat St. Anthony's.
Bro. Conrad's Juniors defeated the St. Anthony's five by a score of 31 to 6. The Juniors got off in a fast start and took the lead and continued to hold it during the entire game. The Juniors were no match for St. Anthony's and the match was a decidedly one sided contest. Kidd, Dam and Gerschow were the high scorers for the winners while the plucky little forwards of the visitors played the game from being a total washout.

The first round of the league games are over and the winner of this round will be announced in our next issue. The league teams are all fighting hard to win the pennant, so the next round promises to be the real stuff. Some of the stars on these teams will be our future Junior stars.

The winners at the last cleanup were Hayden, Stockton, Smythe, Stakelum, Harper, Slough, Richard, and Christina.

MRS. ARMSTRONG DIES AT AGE OF 79 YEARS; WAS ILL FOUR WEEKS

Bay Resident of 17 Years Passes Away Wednesday Afternoon—Buried in New Orleans.

Mrs. Marie Josephine Buddendorff Armstrong, widow of John Joseph Armstrong, who preceded her to the grave over 30 years ago, died Wednesday afternoon, 5:30 o'clock, at her home on Second street, where she resided with her daughter, Miss Louise Armstrong. Death came after a serious illness of about four weeks, although last week her condition showed improvement, but from Saturday to the time of her death she was dangerously ill, lying in a coma from Sunday night. Death came peacefully and her passing was beautiful. She had suffered greatly but much of the suffering seemed to have departed before her last days.

A native of New Orleans, Mrs. Armstrong was in her 79th year and would have been 80 could she have survived to August 15, the date of the Feast of the Assumption. For 17 years the deceased has lived in Bay St. Louis. She delighted to reside here as she had spent much of her girlhood at St. Joseph's Academy where she received her education. She was a devout member of the Catholic church and her delight was in the services of her church enjoying the spiritual exultation especially of the mass and benediction. She received all the rites of her church, administered by her pastor, Rev. A. J. Gmelch of Our Lady of the Gulf church. Rev. Leo Paley of this church, also visited Mrs. Armstrong. She was a member of the Altar Society, though prevented for some three or four years to participate in many activities.

During the last illness of the deceased many friends paid sweet attentions to her, assisting in nursing her, especially gracious in this service being Mother Clara, Sister Clothilde, Sister St. John, Sister Maria Antoinette and Sister Frances Xavier, all of St. Joseph's Academy convent, Miss Isabelle Revol, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. Val Yates, Mrs. Henry Fayard, Mrs. C. A. Gordon, Mrs. Nicholas J. Nutter of New Orleans. Two colored servants were most faithful, Victoria Hicks and Rose Jordan.

Mrs. Armstrong is survived by five children, John Joseph Armstrong of Alexandria; Thos. W. Armstrong of Cincinnati; Mrs. V. E. Webber of Waveland, Miss Louise Armstrong and Mrs. John J. Ryan of Bay St. Louis; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. John Joseph Armstrong, Mrs. Thos. W. Armstrong, two sons-in-law, V. E. Webber and John J. Ryan; and eight grandchildren, Jerry, Joseph and Rita Mae Armstrong of Cincinnati; Mrs. Margaret Darling, Baton Rouge; John Joseph Armstrong, Alexandria; James Aloysius, Mary Lucilla and John J. Ryan, Jr., Bay St. Louis.

She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bertha McGowan and Mrs. W. Runnkorf, both of New Orleans, the only two surviving sisters. She was the eldest of the six girls and also had six brothers all of whom are dead.

The funeral was conducted Thursday morning at the 8 o'clock mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Rev. A. J. Gmelch officiating, and the body taken by train at 9:20 to New Orleans, going directly to St. Louis cemetery No. 1, where the remains were placed in the family tomb beside the parents, grandparents and other relatives of the deceased.

FORD SCHOOLS ARE TO BE FOUNDED OVER U. S. TERRITORY

Hundred Million Dollars to Be Devoted to Education Of Young Men—Suggestions Not Wanted

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 14.—Henry Ford has announced his intention to devote the rest of his life and $100,000,000 of his fortune to the founding of schools.

He said he had not yet decided on the number or location of the schools but that some of them would be large institutions and that they would be situated in various parts of the country.

A desire to do all in his power to help the young men of the country find their places in the world, he said, was the inspiration for his plan. He said that society owes young people the opportunity to be educated for useful citizenship and he intended to devote the rest of his active days to the establishment of trade schools and teaching.

Having a definite plan, he said, he intended to invest his money in his own way and did not want suggestions from persons who never made or saved a dollar on how he should spend a million.

Crime and racketeering on failure of schools to teach young men how to fit into the world. Racketeering, he described as a revolt against educational methods which he said were improper and ineffectual. He expressed the belief that anyone should learn a trade and become sufficiently skilled in some line of work so that he could obtain employment.

The schools which he plans, Mr. Ford said would be self-supporting. Academic subjects would be taught

DEATH REMOVES FINE CHARACTER FROM MIDST OF BAY CITY

Frank B. Juden, native of New Orleans, aged 48 years, and husband of Marie Louise Clifton, died at the family home in Court Street Friday morning at 12:30 o'clock, a victim of cold and pneumonia, and the news of his demise was a shock to the community for few even knew he was ill.

His death in a measure was unexpected and his passing away has brought much sorrow to the friends of his family. The remains were taken to New Orleans that morning and funeral held Saturday from the residence of his sister, Mrs. F. A. Shaw, No. 788, French Street, and was attended by many sorrowing friends both from New Orleans and this city.

Mr. Juden is survived by his widow, a daughter and a younger son, and made his family home in Bay St. Louis while he traveled for the firm of Terry & Juden, the latter a brother. He is also survived by one sister, Miss Susie Juden, of New Orleans.

Frank Juden was a typical home-loving man, lived for his family and friends and enjoyed a wide acquaintance. No man was better known and better liked and his passing away is truly an irreparable loss. The cause of his death was a manifestation of both love and sympathy. He was fond of Bay St. Louis, as are his family, and lived here solely as a matter of choice and his passing away is well a loss to this city. His memory, however, will ever live and those who knew him best will remember him for the many sterling qualities which were his.

Mrs. Juden and children have the deepest sympathy of the community. Their bereavement is a great one, and only time, the assuager of all grief, will alleviate the sting of death.

The Echo also extends sympathy to the immediate family and other relatives.

MISS. GULF COAST IS HAVEN FOR THOSE SEEKING LONGEVITY

J. H. Lang, veteran of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, who resides at Pass Christian, is a frequent writer to the press and always has something of interest to say. Here is his latest letter to the press:

One day last week I had the pleasure of calling on one of my very old friends in Handsboro whom I had not met for more than 60 years. This friend is now 85 years young and surely does not look the age. This reminds me that Handsboro must certainly have been the place of perpetual youth that has been sought for centuries. There you will find numbers of people who are away over 75 years of age and on to the late eighties.

Some of the old time Handsborians are in Gulfport, Pass Christian, and other points. Quite a number have passed on during the last two years and we are all running on borrowed time. Charlie Liddle, Sid Otis, George Champlin, Minor Baxter, Alex Lopper, Poly Lopper, Ned Letimer, Francis Crawford Pradat, Dick Cowan, Elmo Richards and others I do not recall have passed on.

Some of the old timers still with us are Sam Taylor, Frank Taylor, Sam Henry, Frank Rees, John Lang, John Clark, Mrs. Lou Taylor Henry, Mrs. Julia Fowler Myers, Mrs. Molly Leinhard Harry, Miss Betty Washington, Reed Washington, Fritz Salmen, Jake Salmen, Mike Peehan, Louis Jordan, Bob Cowan.

There may be some others I do not now recall. All these are over 70 years of age and lived in Handsboro during the Civil War.

Let's get together and have an old folks meeting in Handsboro and talk over old times.

COMPLETION OF N. O. MILLION-DOLLAR WHITE-WAY LIGHTING

Will Be Signalized on Evening of February 24—Edison Will Turn on Electric Current.

A project which was first conceived by foresighted Orleanians sixteen years ago will enter into its final stages of realization on Monday, February 24.

Under a $3,500,000 beautification program, New Orleans' famous Canal Street is being rapidly transformed into an outstanding beauty spot. The program includes repaving of the sidewalks, vehicular roadways, neutral ground and the installation of a brilliant white-way system.

At eight o'clock on the evening of February 24, when the Mardi Gras festivities will be in full swing and when thousands of visitors are expected to be in the city, completion of the $1,000,000 lighting system will be signalized by a celebration that is expected to surpass anything of its kind ever held in that city. At that hour, Thomas A. Edison, father of the incandescent lamp, will press the button that will switch on the new lighting system. The great inventor will be in Fort Myers, Florida at the time and arrangements have already been made with the Western Union Telegraph Company for the necessary connection between the Florida point and New Orleans.

Some of the railroads have announced special low fares from the sections surrounding New Orleans for the celebration, according to E. Davis McCutcheon, Chairman of the Canal Street Beautification Committee of the Association of Commerce. Retail stores, Mr. McCutcheon points out, Weaver, presiding. The high school orchestra and Girls' Glee Club, and a cantata rendered by the sixth grades of all ward schools, will be the principal musical features of the evening along with the Parent-Teacher Association fathers' Quartette.

Thursday morning following the two-hour departmental conferences, the third general meeting will be held on the Markham roof. At 12 noon the correspondence course luncheon will be held at the Great Southern Hotel in charge of Mrs. J. A. Weaver, who sponsored this feature of Parent-Teacher instruction throughout the state. At 1:45 p. m. the fourth and last general meeting will be held on the Markham Roof, adjourning to take another auto ride along the Coast to Biloxi, delegates and visitors being entertained at one of the Biloxi hotels at tea, with all Biloxi Parent-Teacher Associations serving as hostesses.

On Thursday night Perkinston A. H. S., through the cooperation of C. G. Darby, will present the play, "The Average Man." The general public is invited to attend this closing feature of the convention. Friday morning the post-convention board of managers' meeting will be held in the Gold Room of the Markham, bringing to a close the convention of 1936 of the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers.

COPIAH COUNTY IS SETTING PACE

Dairying Brings $1200 Per Day, Livestock Third of a Million a Year

Many carloads of cattle have already been shipped from Copiah and during the next three weeks the county will move practically all the remainder of its surplus live stock, which is always sold on the winter markets.

More than 1000 head of cattle have been moved during the past 10 days and the season has seen over 5000 head of cattle and 500 head of hogs shipped. No sheep or goats are sold, but upward of 50,000 chickens have been sold by farmers and poultrymen of the county in the past six months.

Since the passing of the cotton industry as a profitable money crop the farmers have taken more to poultry and live stock and dairying. Dairying alone in Copiah county brings in $1200 a per day. The farmers are getting about $430,000 a year for their milk, and chickens and livestock bring them about $300,000.—Exchange.

from the river to Claiborne avenue, the area included in the beautification program, will cooperate by decorating their stores. A practically continuous line of special window displays along the whole sixteen blocks of the beautification project is planned.

To dramatize the event, these displays will be darkened a few minutes before eight o'clock on the evening of the celebration and will be suddenly and simultaneously illuminated when the new lighting system is put into operation by Mr. Edison. Office and other buildings in the area will also be darkened and then suddenly illuminated.

In addition, the night flying plane of the T. A. T. Flying Service will soar over Canal Street bearing a local prominent speaker who will address the multitude through a magnifying amplifier just as soon as the new lighting system is switched on. The plane will also release a giant flare which will light up the city for a square mile in the Canal Street area. Brief talks will also be made on the neutral ground by city officials and other prominent speakers from a platform to be erected in front of the Boston Club. These talks will be broadcast over WSMB, WJBO, WWL and WJBW, the four local stations.

No automobiles or street cars, Mr. McCutcheon points out, will be allowed on Canal street during the celebration. Bands will play on the neutral ground at the corners of Chartres, Royal, Bourbon, Burgundy, Rampart, Terminal Station, and possibly at other intersections.

The Canal Street Beautification Program, in addition to the white-way lighting system, includes the repaving of the sidewalks and the widening of them by three feet to twenty-one feet; repaving of the vehicular roadways and of the neutral ground and the laying of tie-less, soundless, shock-proof street car tracks. All of this work is now nearing completion.

DOESN'T TIME FLY?

LOCAL HAPPENINGS CHRONICLED BY THE SEA COAST ECHO

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Possibly Congressman E. J. Bowers, of Hancock county, could break the senatorial dead lock at Jackson.

James G. Payard came out from New Orleans Wednesday, and was a caller at the city and county tax offices where he had business to transact.

Mr. and Mrs. Aristide Ladner and little daughter, Miss Stella Ladner, accompanied by their friend, Miss Roth, were here from New Orleans last Sunday, guests of Hon. Richard Mendes.

Mr. Henry Widmer and daughter, Helen, came out from New Orleans Saturday evening for a brief visit to Bay St. Louis friends.

Miss Mabel Brandao, of this city, has entered the N. O. Times-Democrat European trip contest and is leading in her district. Miss Brandao has many friends here and elsewhere who are clipping the coupon ballots daily and casting them in her favor.

Miss May Edwards and Rosetta McGinn left last evening for New Orleans where they will visit their friend Mrs. Nell Tyler McCauley.

Miss Lucille Rogers, an accomplished society belle of Waverly, Tenn., is the guest of her friend Mrs. Jas. A. Evans at the attractive Evans bungalow in Carroll avenue.

A bell for the colored school house has been ordered from the manufacturers in Ohio. It is a bell of some size and tone and will prove quite an acquisition to the new building recently put up by the city.

Mr. Sossius Peacock returned to her home at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday after a visit with her mother, Mrs. H. F. Mattox, and family at their home in Main street. Her departure is regretted by the many friends who accorded her a warm welcome during her stay.

Congressman E. J. Bowers gave it out during the early part of the week that in addition to the appropriation of $67,500 by the present congress, the port of Gulfport received an unused balance of $80,000.00, this making the total appropriation $147,500 for Gulfport. It is intended the great channel at this point of the sea coast should reach a depth of 26 feet and this sum will be devoted to that use.

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Von Ehren spent Sunday at Lakeshore, visiting Mrs. Colly, who recently underwent a surgical operation, and who was quite ill as a subsequent result but is now better.

Mrs. Blanche Avery Ehrman, after a visit of a few weeks to her friends and her aunt Miss Josie E. Welch, returned to her home in New Orleans Sunday. To Mrs. Ehrman and the many friends of her girlhood days her recurrent visits are always a source of mutual pleasure.

Opening of New Monkey Golf Course — Raymond Whitcomb Land Cruise Visitors—Other Guests

The Monkey Golf Course at the Inn-By-The-Sea opened its doors to the public on Friday. Literally speaking, doors are correct, for the golfer must pass through two charming hand wrought iron doors, with his two bits (for nine holes) clutched tightly in his hand to the entrance gate. After once in it is very hard to be conservative and play only nine holes for you feel that that is just a starter and you would like to make the seventh water hole in three! Or perhaps you would like to try the third hole over again and see if this time you can put your ball just up or into the hole and not roll down on the other side the way you did the first time! Its amazing how easily the ball slips around the hole, lingers near it, then slowly rolls away instead of dropping in as you fully expected it to do. Then again you might be very lucky and make a hole in one time and time again. It has been done.

On Saturday the Raymond Whitcomb Land Cruise Guests spent the day, enjoying the brilliant sunshine on the beach or in the Sea Court. There were about seventy eight guests on this cruise.

Allen (B. D.) Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. William C. Perry and Mr. W. C. Perry of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. John Avery and Mrs. Dudley Jennison of Pasadena, California; Col. MANY SEE EX-PRESIDENT AND WIFE

Many people from this section were at the L. & N. depot last Thursday afternoon to greet Ex-President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge who went thru on train No. 5 en route to California from Jacksonville, Florida, bound for New Orleans that evening and in which city the prominent guests remained until the following night.

Mrs. Ernest J. Leonard presented the former first lady of the land a bouquet of Bay St. Louis-grown Jaconias in two color contrast, with a card bearing a gracious and appropriate inscription. Mrs. Coolidge accepted it with much grace and charm and it was evident she is a woman of charm and unusual friendliness.

The ex-president typified "Silent Cal" most characteristically as he stood with his wife on the rear platform of the train. He appeared typical of his pictures and his hair is rather thin and of red-like sandish hue. He shook hands with the few who ventured close enough. The crowd was most orderly and it was evident that in addition to the splendid decorum that a spirit of due deference prevailed.

It was most refreshing to see Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and their expression and attitude stamped them as being most cordial and receptive to the greeting which they received and it was plain to see both are democratic to the core. They will remain in Southern California for an indefinite period.

At one point along the Coast Mr. Coolidge said to a reporter: "This is my first visit to your beautiful Gulf coast and I find the climate balmy and delightful. Mrs. Coolidge and myself would like to be able to spend a while here."

—Wentworth Linen Stationery for both men and women. 48 large flat sheets and 40 envelopes to match, only 49c at the Atlas Drug Store.

—The W. B. A's. are progressing rapidly with their pageant, which will be the first of its kind on the Coast. A practice of the entire members of Bay St. Louis, Gulfport and Biloxi took place at the Elk's Home in Biloxi on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Lucille Moore of Biloxi, coast director, is very much pleased with the good work and urges all participants to try and be present for all practices.

—Appropriate street signs have been placed on the four corners of courthouse square, marking the intersection of corner Gex and Main streets and corner Cue and Main streets. The street paralleling the courthouse from north to south and from Main to Court street named after County Attorney E. J. Gex and in honor of the Gex family of this city, while the new street on the other side of the courthouse named after Emilio Cue, wide-awake and progressive supervisor from this the Fifth district.

KILN BASKETEERS DEFEAT SELLERS

In a rather slow game the Kiln Wildcats defeated the strong Sellers five by a 21-12 score. The air-tight defense of the Kiln lads proved to be the downfall of the visiting team.

The fast angry forwards of the Sellers team were smothered by the tall shifty Wildcat guards, and T. Shaw "crip shot" forward was held to three baskets, one-half of his team's entire score. Moran and Duboussin tied for high scoring honors, each making four filed goals.
